THE FALL RIVER SPINNERS.

Secretary Howard's Call for the Semi-Annual Meeting.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 7.—Under the head "Combined to Strengthen," Secretary Howard has issued a call for the semi-annual meeting of the Spinners' Union to elect officers. He says:—"The condition of the Association, numerically and financially, was never better than at the present. Every spinner in the city who is worth calling a spinner belongs to the association. The net gain in the funds for the past month was $601.-72. The net gain in the funds for the expired portion of the year is $2742.12. These figures speak well for the sound and healthy condition of the association. The amounts paid out in benefits, grants and levies for the past six months are as follows:—To members attending with accidents, $175.05; for victimized pay, $7.50; for burial dues, $115; grant to Nashua strikers, $50; levies to the national Union, $100. As will be seen from the above figures nothing for the past six months has been disbursed for strikers."

A MONTH OF RAIN.

Wisconsin Rivers Overflowing Their Banks.

ASHLAND, Wis., June 7.- All the rivers and streams in this vicinity are out of their banks, doing havoc with logging. Several houses were washed away at the Indian village Odonah, nine miles from here, on Bad river. The northern divisions of the Wisconsin Central and Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western roads are badly washed. Rain has fallen every day since May 1.

The Labor Troubles in Haverhill, Mass.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 7.—Matters at J. H. Winchell & Co.'s shoe factory are very quiet today. The cutters are at work and about twenty-five people in the other rooms. The bottoming and stitching departments are closed.

At a meeting of the International Union this morning the following proposition was submitted by the Knights of Labor:—The Knights will call out the objectionable Knights of Labor cutter if in case of settlement of the strike he can return to work in the room and retain his Knight of Labor membership.

There is no prospect of an immediate settlement of the strike, which is keeping nearly seven hundred people from work.

Lightning's Freaks in Middleboro, Mass.

MIDDLEBORO, Mass., June 7.- A very severe tempest passed over Middleboro last night. Lightning struck the barn of Edward Gove at Fall Brook, making a hole about seven feet long and killing two horses, one of them a valuable one belonging to Charles Gove.

Superintendent Healey to be Removed.

PROVIDENCE, June 7.—The state board of education organized today and resolved to remove Superintendent Martin C. Healey of the State Home and School, into whose conduct an investigation has just been closed. Applications for the vacancy will now be received.

Ex-Recorder Gould of Albany Arrested.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 7.—Ex-Recorder Anthony Gould was arrested today charged with embezzling $15,000 from the City National Bank through collusion with the defaulting bookkeeper, Whitney.

No Unusual Boom in the Copper Market.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The managers of the Metal Exchange today denied that there was any boom in the copper market here. They received a cable from London yesterday quoting an advance of £5. This was caused by a general small rise in the price of the metal and considerable speculation. In this city there has been no unusual activity in speculation.

Mr. Balfour to Reply to Mr. Parnell.

LONDON, June 7.—Mr. Balfour is preparing for publication in America a review article replying to Mr. Parnell's recent criticism of the Irish land purchase bill.

An Iceberg Seven Hundred Feet Long.

BOSTON, June 7.- Steamer Hermann, at this port from Antwerp today, reports, June 2, in Lat. 48.50, Lon. 40.50, passed five icebergs, one about seven hundred feet long and fifty feet high.

Gloucester's First Fare of Mackerel.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 7.—The first fare of mackerel of the season, which reached here yesterday, was sold today for $14.25 a barrel.

Ex-President Cleveland at Marion.

FALL RIVER, June 7.- Ex-President Grover Cleveland arrived from New York this morning on steamer Pilgrim, and at 8 o'clock took the train for Marion. At Wide Junction ex-Representative Davis of Fall River boarded the train and had a few moments' chat with Mr. Cleveland. At Middleboro Mr. Hilder and several friends on their way to Boston came into the car for a few minutes. At the Marion station Mr. Cleveland was met by Mrs. Cleveland who after her husband had shaken hands with several of the natives drove him to their cottage in a phaeton. It is understood that Mr. Cleveland will spend the greater portion of the summer at Marion.

The Hot Weather in New York.

NEW YORK, June 7. The hot weather has given the city death rate a boom. The deaths this week were eight hundred and twenty-one, against six hundred and fifty six last week.

The Iron and Steel Workers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 7.—At yesterday's session of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, last year's boiling scale of $5.50 per ton on the two-cent card rate was adopted. This action practically settles the wages question of the iron and steel mills for another year and causes general rejoicing.

A Maine Saw Mill Burned.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 7.—The saw mill and contents owned by Horace Seward at Bedell's Crossing, Kittery Point, Me., were burned this morning. The loss is $2,500; no insurance.

A Staging Gives Way.

HOLBROOK, Mass., June 7.—While working on the roof of a new house today Weddell Hudson and another carpenter, named Smith, fell a distance of twenty-five feet to the ground and were very badly injured. It is thought Smith cannot recover. The accident was caused by the staging giving way.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, June 7.

House.

Before the beginning of the debate on the silver bill, at the request of Mr. Payson of Illinois, Mr. Conger of Iowa, in charge of the bill, modified his substitute so as to provide that the Treasury notes issued in pursuance of the bill shall be a legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, striking out the following words:—"Except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract."

Mr. Payson said that he realized that the substitute would, in substance, pass this body, and it would be done in obedience to public sentiment, which he believed to be universal in favor of a larger use of silver as a money metal and of a further increase of the currency of the country.

Referring to the financial plank of the Republican platform, and speaking of the Treasury bill, he said that he had not expected when he listened to the reading of that plank that two years thereafter he would be called upon to vote in a Republican House upon a measure which not only practically and absolutely demonetized silver as a money metal, but established a gold standard upon the statute books. It wiped from the statute books the only law the country had for the coinage of the standard silver dollar. He believed in the doctrine announced by the Republican national convention, and he stood for it. He opposed the Treasury bill because it proposed to treat silver simply and purely as a merchantable commodity, and to fix (until Congress should change it) an open declaration on the statutes that gold and gold alone should be the standard of value, declared so by the supreme law of the land. He had always believed that the doctrine of the Republican party was that every piece of paper which should be issued by the general government having monetary functions at all should be legal tender for all debts, private as well as public. This was not provided for in the Treasury bill. The feature of bullion redemption was an argument that was conclusive that this bill and the substitute were treating silver bullion as a commodity, and nothing else. On this principle the same thing could be done with as great propriety with copper, with tin and with nickel as was proposed to be done with silver. If the government used silver at all it should be used as a money metal, and not as a commodity. He was opposed to the substitute because of that. But he expected to give it his support in this contingency. He hoped that an opportunity would be given to strike out the bullion redemption feature, but, even if it were not possible to get it out of the bill, he would give the bill his support. He was confidently advised that if this bill should pass in its present form the matter to which he had alluded would be corrected elsewhere. The bill was bound to be considered at the other end of the Capitol; it would be amended there and the House would have an opportunity to vote on the amendment.

Mr. Bynum of Indiana—Suppose it is not amended?

Mr. Payson—From assurances I have from another place I have no more doubt of that than that I am standing here.

Mr. Payson then proceeded to criticise the silver policy of the Hayes, Arthur, Cleveland and Harrison administrations. He referred to the denunciation of the Cleveland administration by the Republican party, and said that he had endorsed that denunciation all over Illinois.

Mr. Williams of Illinois inquired whether the present law, if fairly executed, was not better than the pending bill.

Mr. Payson replied that if the discretion vested in the Secretary of the Treasury had been fairly used for the past six months, let alone for seven or eight years, no such legislation as this would be under discussion today. [Applause.] The Treasury officials were the friends of gold, and gold alone. No miser ever went clutching for gold with greater avarice and greed than every Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Mutchler of Pennsylvania was opposed to both propositions pending before the House.

Mr. Hatch of Missouri reiterated and indorsed everything the gentleman from Illinois had said relative to the hostile attitude of the Treasury Department towards silver, and denounced the method in which the measure had been brought before the House.

LOCAL NOTES.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin entertained at dinner last night.

—Mr. C. M. Oelrichs and Mr. Roland King have returned from New York.

—Mr. Bradford of Boston, owner of the Dexter Bradford villa, and Mr. Bloomfield of Boston are in town.

—Miss Saunders of the Willow street school took the children of her room out for a bass ride and picnic this afternoon.

—The annual convention of Congregational churches of Rhode Island will be held in the Benedict Church, Providence, on Tuesday next.

—The turnout on Broadway, near Malbone avenue, has been wired, and this morning a car, in trying it, got off the track, losing one trip.

—Newport Tabernacle, No. 3, Grand United Order of Galilean Fishermen, will attend the funeral of the late Henry Reister tomorrow afternoon.

—F. B. H. Paine of Pittsburg and Miss Virginia L. Stafford of Boston, James Stafford and wife of Brooklyn and Mrs. Van Vorst and E. Blum of New York are at The Aquidneck.

—The children of St. Joseph's Convent school, in charge of the sisters of St. Joseph, went to Eagle Crest, Miantonomi hill, this morning, for a picnic. All took lunches and the boys had a good supply of base ball utensils.

—Beginning next Saturday steamer Eolus will make an extra trip, leaving Newport at 8.15, taking a mail for Providence and other points and connecting with the 5 p. m. train from New York, reaching Newport at 10.40 p. m.

—Box car 19 of the street railway has been taken off its motor truck, which will be placed under open car 20, the open cars being the most popular at present, though they were not last night when that thunderstorm came up.

—Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger of New York are arranging for Koster & Bial a brief tour of the leading watering places for Carmencita, the famous Spanish dancer, who will probably be accompanied by the Spanish students and one or two other special attractions. The tour will begin about August and will include this city, Saratoga and Long Branch.

—Friday evening's severe thunderstorm caught the Goffe building, corner Washington square and Charles street, in a somewhat unprotected condition, owing to the additional story which Mr. Goffe is putting on top not being completed. As is usual on such occasions the rain took advantage of all the openings in the walls, and thoroughly drenched the two upper stories, occupied by Mrs. Carey as a boarding house, wetting the furniture and bedding so thoroughly that no sleep could be had in the house. The loss will be considerable. The rain also damaged Mr. Garrettson's store.

SEACONNET MINISTERIAL UNION.

A meeting of ministers belonging to the churches in the neighborhood of Tiverton and Little Compton was held recently at the Congregational parsonage, Tiverton Four Corners, at which it was decided to organize a ministers' union under the title of the Seaconnet Ministerial Union. There were present Rev. Messrs. Donald Browne, pastor of the Congregational Church, Tiverton Four Corners; G. B. Cutter of the Free Will Baptist Church, T. F. Norris, pastor of the Congregational Church, Little Compton, and Charles H. Ewer of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. T. F. Norris was elected moderator and Rev. C. H. Ewer clerk. It was arranged to hold a monthly all-day meeting in the several churches which were represented—the first of the series being fixed for June 12, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Little Compton, the services to be as follows: —Morning service at 10.30, conducted by Rev. T. F. Norris; afternoon service, 2.30, Rev. D. Browne; evening service, 7.30, Rev. G. B. Cutter.

JAMESTOWN.

People who travel on the cliff walk complain that the foot bridge at the end of Brook street is in a dangerous condition and that there is danger of a person getting a broken limb by stepping through it. As this is a popular walk, the bridge should not be allowed to remain in this condition.

Professor E. T. Reichert, who owns yacht Nydia, is having the boat overhauled and painted at Eddy's yard in Newport, and expects to put her in commission in about two weeks.

Mrs. James Hopkins is at her cottage on Brook street.

Dr. Griffith of Philadelphia and family arrived at his cottage in the Highlands today.

Lieutenant J. V. B. Bleecker has returned to New York, after a few days' visit to his family, who are at their cottage on Racquet road.

It is not often that a gardener has the good luck to sell his crop of potatoes for cash before it is grown, and in so uncertain a condition as a crop must necessarily be thus early in the season. The Water Works Company desiring the land upon which Mr. Isaac Clarke had planted potatoes, satisfactory arrangements have been made by which Mr. Clarke is able to put his potatoes in his pocket several months ahead of other gardeners hereabout. The Water Works Company are pushing matters rapidly. Several thousand feet of the sheet-iron pipe has already been delivered at their place, and a shed built in which the pipes will be lined with cement. A cargo of cement is daily expected. In the meantime cement in small quantities will be obtained in Newport, that there may be no delay. The company believe they will have no trouble in getting the water running in the time specified in the contract, which agrees to have water at the hotels in six weeks from June 4.

Mr. John J. Watson, the census taker of this place, went to Gould Island yesterday afternoon and obtained the information required at that place.

Visitors are arriving rapidly at present, for the season. All express pleasure in the rapid strides the place is making in improved accommodations for the summer people. Many are well posted upon the changes made since last season, being regular subscribers to the Daily News while at their winter homes.

Miss Aggie Gill, granddaughter of Captain I. B. Briggs, who lives at the West ferry, while passing a window during the heavy thunderstorm last evening received a shock which felled her to the floor. One side was in a paralyzed condition for several hours, but it is understood that today she is suffering no inconvenience from the accident. As far as can be discovered the electricity left no marks upon the house or grounds.

Mr. Lawrence Wetherell of Philadelphia, Mrs. Charles Lord and the Misses Lord of New York are registered at the Bay View House.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson of St. Louis, Mrs. John N. Ford of Detroit and Mayor and Mrs. Thomas Lord of New York city are registered at the Prospect House.

Arrivals at the Gardner House:—Edward M. Davis, Miss S. G. Davis, J. Corbet Davis and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watson of Philadelphia.

Mr. P. J. Murphy of Newport has just completed the largest job of plumbing in the town, upon the New Bay View.

LIFE AND HEALTH ARE OFTEN MAINTAINED WITHOUT EXERCISE.

Practically, do we really find so very much evidence of the necessity or advantage of exercise? asks the St. James Gazette. If long life and freedom from illness are a proof of health and who shall say they are not? we need not go far to find abundant examples of the attainment of these things without the assistance of exercise. There are the students, the men of indoor, sedentary life. It is enough to mention the late Professor Ranke, the late M. Chevreuil and Cardinal Newman. Can the ranks of exercise worshipers furnish three names to equal these for length of serviceable days? Can anyone truly say within the limits of his own experience that those addicted to exercise are most free from illness and live the longest? Is it not rather the case that they are apt to die suddenly, before their time, as men who have burnt the candle at both ends? And women—how comes that green and delightful old age which we often see in those who have never had a day's exercise in their lives, according to modern notions? If half that is said be true, they are flying in the face of science in daring to live at all. How many do we not see guiltless of exercise and sound in health from the highest lady in the land downward! There is something revolting in the demand that grown women, married and matrons, shall caper and frisk like young girls. It is not nature's way. As in youth she makes us active, so after a certain age she gives us all a disinclination to rapid movement and severe exertion, which it is not wise to ignore on the strength of an imperfect physiology and a more imperfect pathology; for it is profoundly true that "the body—or, as some love to call it our inferior nature—is wiser in its own plain way, and attends to its own business more directly than the mind, with all its boasted solidity."

HOBSON'S CHOICE.

Good old Tobias Hobson, carrier and innkeeper of Cambridge in Stuart times, doubtless desired to be remembered by posterity, for he erected a handsome conduit in the market place, and left "seven lays" of pasture for its maintenance, the which conduit remaineth till this day, though its site has been removed. Fate, however, decided that Hobson should be immortalized, not simply in the locality for his benefactions, but on a far wider scale for a peculiar custom he adopted in his business. He kept a stable of forty good cattle, and made it a rule not out of mere caprice, but on the grand old principle that "a righteous man regarded the life of his beast," that every animal should have an equal portion of rest and labor, so that when a customer wanted a horse he had to take the one standing nearest the stable door or go without. Had Hobson lived in an ordinary town the fame of his eccentricity might have died with him, but every Cambridge student carried home the story till "Hobson's choice" became a national proverb. And besides amongst his customers was a comely youth, who was thereafter to be known as the greatest epic poet of his country. Milton twice commemorates the carrier in his verses, and his lines on Hobson are singular for their quaint and almost playful treatment of a solemn subject:—

And surely death could never have prevailed,
Had not his weekly course of carriage failed;
But, lately, finding him so long at home,
And thinking now his journey's end was come,
And that he had ta'en up his latest inn,
In the kind office of a chamberlin,
Showed him his room where he must lodge that night,
Pulled off his boots, and took away the light;
If any ask for him it shall be said
Hobson has supped, and's merrily gone to bed.

The allusion in the second line is to the interruption in Hobson's business caused by the Great Plague, and popularly supposed to have hastened his death. [English paper.

Christian and heathen traditions alike account for the origin of the red rose. According to the latter, Venus, in her haste to relieve Adonis from pain, trod upon a thorn. A white rose was growing close by, and as the blood fell upon it the flower grew red with the contact, and remained so ever after. Another version is that Cupid, dancing among the gods, upset a cup of nectar with the same result. The Christian tradition is that the red rose sprang from the brands which were lighted at Bethlehem for the purpose of burning a holy maiden who had been wrongfully accused and condemned, and in her hour of anguish called to God for aid. The fire was miraculously quenched, and the brands became the first red roses man ever saw.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES IN JAPAN.

Severely Maltreated by the Japanese Students for Trivial Offenses.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The Associated Press correspondent, writing from Yokohama, Japan, under date of May 21, says:—Some uneasiness prevails among foreigners in the Japanese capital owing to developments which have followed the murder of the Canadian missionary, Rev. T. A. Large. The excitement occasioned by the news of the murder had just died away, when one of the best known foreigners in the city, Rev. James Summers, found himself a victim of circumstances which compelled his departure, and following close upon that another missionary, Rev. W. Imbrey of New Jersey, was set upon by a crowd of students and seriously cut by knives.

On May 6 Mr. Summers, for many years past proprietor of the English school at Tokio and patronized by the nobility, was driving on one of the principal thoroughfares of Tokio with his wife, when the carriage of the Dowager Empress, mother of the present Mikado, approached with a cavalry escort. When a member of the royal family passes it is customary for people along the street to uncover their heads. This Mr. Summers did and also reined in his horse into the side of the street and halted. As the carriage approached, he took off his hat, replacing it as soon as the carriage was past him. One of the escorts in the rear of the carriage noticed his hat and brought his lance in line with it, so that by accident the cavalry man struck Summers a blow on the head. The soldier was at once arrested and court martialed. The native press immediately took up the matter and much feeling against the foreigners was manifested by the rough student element known as the shoz, who were inflamed by the report that Summers had been guilty of an act of disrespect towards the Empress Dowager. They called repeatedly at his school and so alarmed Mr. Summers that he left the school in the hands of the police and departed on the 16th inst. by a steamer for his home in England. The shoz are greatly excited and foreigners are fearing serious outbreaks. Mr. Summers is the same man who about forty years ago caused the death of the governor of Macao in China by refusing to remove his hat when a Corpus Christi procession was passing. He was thrown into prison by the Portuguese, rescued by an English admiral and in the pending excitement the Portuguese governor and one other person were killed.

On the 17th inst. the Japanese students of the Presbyterian school, known as Meije Gakuin, started to play a game of base ball with the students of the Koto Sigako preparatory school and the feeder to the Imperial University of Tokio. Rev. G. W. Knox, the American missionary teacher in Meije Gakuin accompanied the students from his school. While the game was in progress another American missionary, Rev. W. Imbrey of New Jersey, a teacher in the same school, went to the grounds and stepped over a low hedge fence into the field. He was set upon by the shoz and beaten about the head and body and sustained injuries and knife cuts about the head. No cause is given for the act. Less fear is being shown by the shoz for the police and the outcome of the excitement is the topic of general surmise.

The American squadron on the Asiatic station has not yet had a vessel stationed at Yokohama harbor since flagship Omaha left two months ago for Kobe, at which port she is still stationed. The Monocacy is in Chinese waters, and the Swatara is at Honolulu, whither she carried the family of United States Minister Hurd. This vessel is expected within a week at Nagasaki.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

What the London Times Thinks of the Situation.

LONDON, June 7.—The Times, discussing the silver bill now before the United States Congress, says:—"If the silver men succeed in passing the bill in its present form or as amended by the Senate, they will not have to wait long before gaining all they could wish. The American legislature has never yet succeeded in devising a scheme to fully counteract the enormous natural advantages of the country. It has tried its best with protection and now with the silver bill, but the results will be as incomplete as ever."

THE ALIEN CONTRACT LAW.

Suits to be Brought for its Violation in Chicago.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 7.—Special Treasury Agent A. J. Lester has returned from Chicago, where he has been collecting evidence of violations of the alien contract labor law among the Chicago carpenters. The evidence has been forwarded to Secretary Windom, who, it is expected, will order the district attorney to commence suits by Thursday next. The number of the suits and the names of persons against whom they are to be brought have not been made public. The law provides that separate suits may be brought for each alien employed, and the penalty on conviction is $1,000 in each case. Next week the government agents will proceed to investigate the violations of the alien law at Fort Sheridan. It is reported that carpenters are at work there who have been brought from Scotland and are working for less wages than are paid to the American wage earners.

England Does Not Wish to Quarrel with France.

LONDON, June 7.—The Standard declares that England is willing to make reasonable concessions to the demands of the Newfoundland colonists, but that she will not allow the question of Egypt to interfere in the Newfoundland dispute. England, the Standard says, does not desire to quarrel with France, but she will not goad Newfoundland to secede from the empire.

FEDERAL ELECTIONS.

What Mr. Lodge Says of the Chances of the Passage of a Law.

NEW YORK, June 7.—A Washington special to the Tribune says:—Mr. Lodge, the chairman of the House committee on the election of President, Vice President and Representatives in Congress, said last night, in speaking of the chances for the passage of a federal election law:—"The Republican caucus came to no decision Thursday night in relation to the election law, but it was evident from the debate that they will agree on a bill at the next caucus, on Tuesday night. It is really not a question between the bills, as has been commonly stated, which are before the caucus. The caucus itself is engaged in formulating the principles on which a bill shall be prepared. It looks now as if the caucus bill would embody features from both the bills now before it. One thing is certain, that a measure will be decided upon which will be a Republican measure, and which, I feel confident, will meet the wishes of the Republican party throughout the country, and be of a great benefit in securing fair elections."

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

Swifter Vessels Needed to Circumvent the Behring Sea Pirates.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. A despatch to the Chronicle from Victoria says:—"It is just learned here that the seal pirates in Behring sea have adopted a new device for circumventing revenue officers, which is even now being put in successful operation and which can be carried throughout the summer unless the government sends to the Arctic swifter revenue cutters than the Bear and the Rush. The plan of the seal pirates is this:—They have established a rendezvous at Sand Point, about midway of the Aleutian group of islands. The schooners, when they have collected one hundred sealskins, put in there, leave their cargo and then resume hunting. Thus, if they are overhauled by the American cutters they will have so few skins on board that they can be thrown overboard or concealed and all evidence of seal poachings removed. A swift steamer has been chartered to cruise about Sand Point and take the skins as the schooners come in. This vessel is so fast that it can easily leave behind any government steamer now in commission. This steamer will make trips to Victoria and unload skins when she gets a cargo and then return. This work, it is said, has already been in operation one week, as the date fixed by the poachers to begin operations was June 1. They expect to make a larger clean-up than last year, and it is difficult to see how our government can make any seizures unless they send cruiser Charleston or some other swift, new vessel to do patrol duty. The Bear is now in the Arctic and the Rush sailed on Thursday for Behring sea. Both are slow for steamers and have been distanced by fleet schooners, so that there is no chance of their overhauling a speedy steamer. Besides the damage to legitimate sealing, it is estimated that two out of every ten seals shot by the poachers escape and die, while of the skins they take a large percentage are defective."

THE FATAL BLOW.

He Blew Into the Muzzle of an Old Rifle.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 7.—Jacob Hembdt, son of a hotel keeper in the German settlement near Pike pond, Sullivan county, called yesterday upon an aged neighbor, Mrs. Wehrum, to borrow a gun with which to shoot crows. The woman gave him a rusty rifle which had been unused for twelve years. The boy snapped two caps on the nipple without any effect. He then applied his mouth to the muzzle of the gun and blew into the barrel. At this moment there was a discharge from the gun and a bullet went crashing through his brain, killing him instantly.

LOST IN THE JAPAN SEA.

New Bedford Whaling Bark Lancer a Complete Wreck.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.- News has been received here of the loss of the New Bedford whaling bark Lancer in the Japan sea. The Lancer left here last November in command of Captain Cleveland for Okhotsk sea. She ran further south last April and, while following a school of whales, suddenly ran on a sunken rock and sprung a leak. The pumps were worked and the bark kept afloat until she reached Vladivostock, where it was found her damage was too great to be repaired and she was sold and broken up. The captain and crew shipped on other whalers which were in Vladivostock at that time.

The Pittsburg Stone-Cutters Get an Advance.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 7.—The strike of the stone-cutters of this city was settled yesterday by the masters conceding an advance of two and one half cents per hour in wages. All the men returned to work today.

A Ball Player Killed by a Falling Shaft.

WATERBURY, Conn., June 7.—A large shafting, which workmen were hoisting at the boiler factory of Randolph & Clowes at 5 o'clock today fell upon Patrick McElligott, killing him almost instantly. McElligott was well known as a ball player and was 23 years old.

An Alabama Girl Dies of Hydrophobia.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 7.—Lizzie Patterson, 18 years old, living near Gadsden, was bitten in the hand by a pet dog last December. The wound healed, but two weeks ago the girl developed symptoms of hydrophobia and Thursday night she died in great agony.

A Lone Highwayman Gets $1,600.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—A Ukiah special says:—The northbound stage from Ukiah was robbed today (Friday), three miles out of town, by a lone highwayman. It is reported that the robber secured $1,600 from Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box.

Trying to Get the Men to Strike.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., June 7.—Another effort is being made to get the miners in this district to strike for higher wages. If a strike takes place about five thousand men will be affected.

Middle-Weight Pugilists Fight.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Clem. Denning of New York and Dan. Corbett of Brooklyn, middle-weights, fought near Coney Island this morning, according to London prize ring rules for a purse of $500 and $250 a side. Denning won.

Rhode Island Pensions.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Original—Thomas Easton of Providence and Bridget, widow of John Kelley, of Westerly.

Violating the Pension Laws in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 7.—A jury in the United States district court brought in a verdict of guilty today against Lee F. Wilson, a member of the legislature from Shelbyville, who has been on trial for several days charged with violations of the pension laws. Sentence was suspended. The evidence brought out a queer state of affairs. Eleven women, who had been pensioners once, but had been dropped from the rolls because they had remarried, testified that Mr. Wilson had had their names restored to the rolls. It was shown that in each of these a decree had been procured in the Shelby court annulling the marriage of the petitioners to the second husbands.

All Die Repenting.

LINDEN, Texas, June 7.—Three negroes, Tom Mills, Fletcher Holden and Henry Holden, were hanged here today for the murder of James McGregor, a white man, at Atlanta, Texas, on December 7 last. All of the condemned men confessed their guilt and died repenting.

FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, June 7, Wall Street.—Opening prices:—Canada Southern, 60; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, 107¼; Lackawanna, 116⅝; Louisville & Nashville, 90¼; Missouri Pacific, 73⅝; Northern Pacific, 25¼; New York Central, 110; Oregon Navigation, 103¾; Oregon Transcontinental, 57⅛; Pacific Mail, 44¼; Rock Island, 95; St. Paul, 77⅝; Union Pacific, 67⅛; Cotton Oil, 30¼; Sugar Trust, 79

11 A. M.—The opening of the stock market this morning was very quiet for the regular list, and first prices showed only slight changes from the final figures of last evening, which were irregular. The trading during the hour was extremely limited, in comparison with the activity prevalent of late. Sugar was very active and opening up 1⅝ at 79⅛, sold at 79 and rose to 81. This was followed by a decline to 78¾ and the succeeding fluctuations were roped within a comparatively narrow range for that stock. In the railroad list the movements, like the business done, were on a very limited scale and considerable irregularity marked the dealings. Chicago Gas was the strongest stock among the usually active stocks but rose only fractionally. At 11 o'clock the market was quiet to dull and steady at insignificant changes from the opening figures, including Sugar.

Closing Money easy, with no loans and closing offered at 4; prime mercantile paper, 5@6½; bar silver, 109⅛; exchange, quiet but firm; actual rates, $4.85¼ for sixty days, and $4.88½ for demand; posted rates, $4.85½@ 7½; governments, dull and firm for the 4½s; reg., 121; 4s coup., 122; 4½s reg., 109; 4½s coup., 109; railroad bonds, quiet but firm; Pacific 6s, 113. In the stock market after 11 o'clock Chicago Gas displayed increased strength and rose to 80¼ against 78 at the opening. The rest of the list, however, soon developed a heavy to weak tone and almost every thing traded in retired below the opening figures, though the losses were only fractional. Sugar also got down to its lowest point but while the trading in the general list was somewhat increased, Sugar was less active. After the issue of the bank statement, however, there was a better tone and Chicago Gas reached slightly higher figures and the close was active and firm but at only slight changes from the opening prices.

The weekly statement of the associated banks shows the following changes:—Reserve—decrease, $1,750; loans—decrease, $424,900; specie—decrease, $311,500; legal tenders—increase, $77,700; deposits—increase, $969,800; circulation—decrease, $16,800. The banks now hold $9,012,875 in excess of the twenty-five per cent. rule.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS AND THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.
T. T. PITMAN, - PROPRIETOR.
Office, 307 Thames Street.

The first edition of the Daily News is printed in season for the early afternoon train and is for sale at the counter, on the streets and upon the incoming trains and boats.

The second edition contains the latest telegraphic and local news and is delivered by office carriers upon streets within the limits of Bliss road on the north, Channing avenue on the east and Narragansett avenue on the south at $6 a year or 50 cents a month. This edition is also on sale at the railroad stations and steamboat landings.

The Newport Journal contains the best matter in the Daily News each week and will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year in advance.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary Advertisements, $1 a square for the first insertion and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, nonpareil type (or five-sixths of an inch) make a square. Advertisements of five lines or less are taken at about half of these rates. A discount is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for more than one week, or when both papers are used.

Yearly or Term Advertisers are limited to their immediate business, are guaranteed but five insertions in a week and are allowed twenty-five changes a year.

Advertisers using both the daily and weekly papers receive a discount on the combined rates and gain the advantage of distinct classes of readers, no person reading the daily and weekly also. The Journal goes among people who read no other local paper.

PRINTING.

The News has six steam presses and has a large and well-appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled and at reasonable prices.

Persons desiring THE DAILY NEWS served at their homes may secure it by postal card request, or order through telephone. Where delivery is irregular or improper, please make immediate complaint to the office. Persons leaving the city for a long or short time may have the paper mailed to their addresses without extra charge.

Newport Daily News

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1890.

Three severe thunderstorms on as many successive nights is an unusual occurrence for this locality. Even nature believes in opening the season early.

It is considered settled that Governor Davis will call an extra session of the General Assembly. Under all the circumstances it is well that he should do so.

The people in New York and other big cities, who are in a sweltering condition, are respectfully informed that Newport is as cool and salubrious as can be desired.

The Republicans continue to make gains in Congress. When the session opened they had three majority in the House of Representatives and now they have twenty.

"Gath," sometimes known as George Alfred Townsend, has written a novel. He was always known as a great romancer even when he most pretended to be telling the truth.

Grover Cleveland has been invited to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Woonsocket and his acceptance is hoped for, but by no means deemed certain. His first inquiry probably was:—"Where is Woonsocket?"

There is an almost unanimous expression of opinion that Congress should appropriate money for a monument to General Grant without further delay. It should be at Arlington, where so many of the heroic dead now rest.

Judge West of the United States district court has given a decision in a Kansas case, declining to enforce the state prohibitory law, because of the recent "original package" decision of the Supreme Court. This decision releases several prisoners who had been arrested under the state law.

At the special election for alderman in the First ward, Providence, yesterday, only one hundred and eighty-five of the nine hundred qualified property voters cared enough about it to cast their ballots. General Elisha Dyer, jr., the regular nominee, received one hundred and eighty-two votes and there were three scattering against him.

The military camp at South Framingham, Mass., has been raided and had its supply of liquors confiscated. The Boston Record is of the opinion that "a company so badly made up as to call for such action would be better off outside of the state's volunteer forces. Camp duty these days, whatever it may have been in times past, is not for a continual round of drunkenness."

The stockholders of the Seacomnet mill in Fall River are agitating the question of building another mill. The present establishment runs on print cloth entirely, having an equipment of 35,280 spindles and 936 looms. It is urged that there have been many improvements in cotton machinery since the mill commenced running some four years ago, and that, as they have a surplus of $100,000, it would be well to put in the foundation this fall, preparatory to finishing the structure within a year or more, as contracts for machinery can now be made at very reasonable prices.

Mr. Gorham P. Pomeroy, who has been nominated by President Harrison to succeed Hon. John McWilliams, as collector of customs in Providence, has been prominent in politics for several years. He has always been a Republican, and is the personal friend of Senator Aldrich. He was a delegate to the convention which nominated Hayes for President in 1876, and to the Chicago convention in 1884, which nominated Blaine. He has served in the General Assembly and Providence city council. Collector McWilliams's term of office expired a month ago. Mr. Pomeroy will qualify as soon as his nomination is confirmed.

Hon. Chauncey M. Depew is now receiving the compliments of the press on the announcement that the Union League Club will put him forward as a candidate for mayor of New York city. The Union Leaguers want him to be a citizens' candidate, around whose standard, they believe, all classes of citizens might rally, while the Republicans think he would carry the city by storm. It is said, however, that Mr. Depew will consent under no circumstances to run for mayor of New York, and the idea of serving in that office is one which is particularly obnoxious to him. Moreover, it is known definitely by his close political friends that he has within a week definitely determined to be a candidate, directly or indirectly, for no office, at least for two or three years to come.

Ex-President Hayes continues to be laughed at by the trickey politicians who could see no statesmanship in his upright and honorable course in public life, but candid people look upon him as one of our very best public men. The Boston Advertiser voices the general feeling when it says that he "continues to add to his reputation as a philanthropist and publicist by his efforts to promote great reform movements of a non-partisan character. His speech this week, as chairman of the Mohonk Lake Conference, where the interests of the negro have been considered, contains some of the truest and finest utterances to which the conference gave rise, and is eminently worthy of an ex-President of the United States. The private life of ex-President Hayes is of the highest and most useful character, and reflects credit upon the republic."

The silver question had an airing in both the Senate and the House yesterday. In the former body, however, Mr. Plumb was the only speaker. A new conference was ordered on the dependent pension bill and Messrs. Davis, Sawyer and Blodgett were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate. In the House there was a host of speakers, and almost as many minds on the question as disputants. The participants in the debate were Messrs. Lind of Minnesota, Lacy and Kerr of Iowa, Walker of Massachusetts, Blount and Barnes of Georgia, Bland and Heard of Missouri, Townsend of Colorado, Skinner of North Carolina, Dorsey of Nebraska, Mellen of Arkansas, Parrell, Shively and Holman of Indiana, Ellis and Montgomery of Kentucky, Burton and Wickham of Ohio and Wheeler of Alabama. Mr. Walker, in the course of his speech, was frequently interrupted by questions from other members, and the energy of his replies, taken in connection with the heat of the day, was too much for him, and, much to the merriment of the House, he doffed his coat and proceeded with his speech in his shirt sleeves.

As the full returns of the Oregon election come in, it is shown more and more conclusively that the independent voter is about and men and not party are to rule. Congressman Hermann, who has made a good record in Congress, was re elected by about 7,000 majority, while Mr. Pennoyer, the Democratic candidate for governor, received 3,500 majority. Mr. Pennoyer is a popular man, and a great anti-monopolist and a friend of the farmers, while Mr. Thompson, the Republican candidate, is president of seventeen banks. The Farmers' Alliance is beginning to show strength in the state, and Pennoyer, who is the present governor, got the full benefit of that vote, owing to the fact of his opponent being a great banker. In addition to this the governor has made some very popular vetoes which have strengthened him with the people.

The river and harbor bill, when it passed the House, called for appropriations amounting to nearly $20,000,000. Since it has been in the hands of the Senate committee it has been steadily growing, until it foots up nearly $30,000,000. This is a source of great worry and tribulation to the Mississippi river and Hennepin canal people in both houses, each of whom has a large slice in the bill. They are confident that a bill reaching the above figures cannot receive the official sanction of the President, and a veto would carry their appropriation along with the rest. The committee is holding two sessions daily, and is trying to solve the problem of a bill that will satisfy all wants and yet will not deserve to be called a log-rolling measure, but in spite of their efforts the appropriation is reaching alarming dimensions. It is difficult to satisfy all wants without making it a log-rolling scheme, and if the Senate committee can succeed in its endeavor, it will do more than has been done by previous Congresses.

The alumni of Brown University will vote at commencement for three members of the board of trustees to fill vacancies caused by death and resignation during the past year, two Baptists and one Episcopalian. The candidates receiving the requisite number of nominations are as follows:—For the two Baptist vacancies—Rev. Thomas D. Anderson of Providence, class of 1874; Hon. James G. Batterson of Hartford, Rev. Moses H. Bixby, D. D., of Providence; Colgate Hoyt of New York; Henry Kirk Porter, A. M., of Pittsburg, Pa., class of 1869; and Benjamin I. Wheeler, Ph. D., of Ithaca, N. Y., class of 1875. For the Episcopal vacancy—Edward D. Bassett, A. B., of Providence, class of 1873; Zechariah Chafee, A. B., of Providence, class of 1880; Albert I. Gammell, A. M., of Providence, class of 1872; Daniel L. D. Granger, A. M., of Providence, class of 1874; Charles Hitchcock, M. D., of New York, class of 1869; Oscar Lapham, A. M., of Providence, class of 1864, and Francis Lawton, LL. B., of New York, class of 1869. Since the nominations were made Mr. Henry K. Porter has instructed the secretary to withdraw his name, as he cannot serve if elected.

PRESIDENTIAL VETOES.

Nothing gives greater satisfaction to the general public than the disposition of President Harrison to use the veto power to check extravagant and useless expenditures of the public money. President Cleveland did his full duty in this respect and won additional distinction thereby; and the opportunities before Mr. Harrison are equally great.

Attention has sometimes been called to the fact that George Washington and the earlier Presidents used the veto power sparingly and their example has been held up as a model for their successors. But this is not a fair presentation of the case. There was, so far as appears, no such call for executive interposition in the days of Washington, Madison and Monroe as in these times. Those were years in which statesmanship triumphed over partisanship and legislation was conducted in the interest of the whole people. No one who has ever studied the characters of the early Presidents can doubt that had such bills been presented for signatures as are now frequently sent to the White House there would have been many indignant refusals to append the necessary note of approval, then as now. The very suggestion that George Washington would be a party to the distribution of money from the Treasury for public buildings, improvements of rivers and harbors, and the like, chiefly, if not wholly, to help Congressmen secure a re-election and to build up the party," is preposterous. And yet no one doubts that this is done in our day with a lavish hand. The responsibility for an increase in the number of vetoes is not, therefore, with the President so much as with Congress, which passes bills that ought not to become laws; and it is to be hoped that President Harrison will do his duty in the premises as honestly and as faithfully as did his immediate predecessor.

WHAT ARE WE COMING TO?

It was formerly supposed that Congress was to consider public questions with great care, hear all sides, and vote with reference to the facts and arguments that might be produced bearing on the subject. Such was, most certainly, the design of the founders of the government, which was for many years carried into effect. In such a body the scope of debate should not be limited nor should the previous question be called except in rare cases where dilatory tactics are adopted for the purpose of delaying progress.

But the present Congress under the lead of Speaker Reed seeks to reverse all this and proposes to pass upon the most important and abstruse questions without allowing an opportunity for anything like a fair discussion, and the action taken in relation to the so-called silver bill is without parallel in any representative legislative body in the world. At a caucus of the dominant party it was decided to recommend and pass the Conger or original House bill, which was perhaps a sufficiently proper course of action under the present regime. But the caucus went further and decided that no member except the chairman of the committee on coinage should be allowed to even offer an amendment to be passed upon in the body.

With this understanding the speaker will recognize no one on the floor who has an amendment to offer, thus possessing himself of the most despotic power ever assumed in a nominally free government. Thus having prepared the way, the bill is suddenly sprung upon the House with the announcement that one day will be allowed for consideration and the vote taken the next day at 3 o'clock and the bill be passed. If the question to be decided were one of minor importance there might be some apology for such action; but it is not. The Springfield Republican sums up the case as follows:—

There has hardly been a more important financial measure before Congress since the war. It demands the most open discussion and careful deliberation that can possibly be given. But under the peculiar methods of the majority it is to get neither. It emerges from the secrecy of the caucus to the open door of the House only after the possibility of passing it without discussion has been assured. That it comes before the House at all is because the Constitution requires so much; otherwise it would be sent directly to the Senate Republican committee. The same formal recognition of the dimness of things requires that there should be opportunity to debate the measure, and so, as a mere matter of form, two days are allowed for this, the majority to have half the time. But members of the minority are not suffered to offer amendments, whereby the majority may be forced to put itself on record in regard to free coinage and other troublesome subjects. This consideration of the bill in open house must be and is intended to be largely a farce; the caucus has decreed the passage of the bill, and it is before the House only to have that decree registered in due form. This was the case with the pension bill, the tariff bill and the bill for the relief of the Supreme Court. Once before the House they went through at a snap of a finger. It is to be so with the silver bill. The caucus has legislated, the House is now to register its decree.

A CANDIDATE FOR CUSTOM APPRAISER.

There is one man in this city who is likely to be selected for one of the four Democratic places on the board, but of whose candidacy little has been said. This is Mr. Fred Perry Powers, associate editor of the National Democrat. Mr. Powers is not an applicant for the appointment, but his friends, who know of his special fitness for the place, are quite active in his behalf. Mr. Powers was for many years a newspaper correspondent in Washington, and has quite a reputation as a careful writer, having contributed many very creditable articles to the magazines and trade papers. He has made a careful study of tariff subjects for many years, and a few years ago a cash prize of $250 was awarded him by a tariff reform league for an article on the tariff as applied to the local industries of a large city. Mr. Powers chose the city of Chicago for his examples and won the prize from a number of expert competitors. If he consents to have his name presented for appointment as a Democratic member of the new board, it will be with the endorsement of some of the strongest and most prominent Democrats in the United States.—[Washington letter to New York Sun.

THE COIN OF THE REALM.

Within a few days the bill that has already passed the House will be approved by the Senate, giving authority to the director of the mint, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to change the patterns of United States coins as may seem to them desirable. When this shall have been made a law, Director Leech will advertise for designs, and the contest will be thrown open to all amateurs and professionals, with awards of probably not less than $500 for each one accepted.

Up to the present time, the law has not permitted any alteration in the coins of the nation, save by special act of Congress in each case. But the passage of the bill referred to will give the director of the mint, with the secretary's approval, power to make changes according to his discretion once in twenty-five years.

"We are going to have something entirely new for the silver dollar," said Director Leech to a reporter. "Designs on coins ought always to mean something, but I should like to know how that Philadelphia school marm's head signifies liberty. We shall drop her and put in her place something very different—maybe a head of Washington, but that remains to be determined, and leeway will be given to the artists who contend in order that the greatest varieties of ideas and suggestions may be obtained. As for the eagle on the other side, it must go. We want an eagle in place of it that is of the heroic type and doesn't look like a turkey buzzard."

"How about the half dollar?"

"That as well as the other subsidiary coins—the quarter and the dime—needs alteration. Of course, all three will have the same design. The eagle on the back seems to be a creditable sort of bird, and I rather think we shall retain it as it is; but the shabbled young female sitting on a cotton bale we shall do away with. I don't in the least know what we shall put in her place, but we certainly don't want her."

"And the penny?"

"The Indian must be wiped out. It is a well-executed head, artistically speaking, but the law says that the design on the face of the penny must typify liberty. I don't see how an Indian typifies liberty, unless it is liberty very badly abused, with an overdose of bad whiskey thrown in. We shall put something in the place of the red man, though I haven't a notion of what at present. Let the competing designers make their own suggestions. The nickel, as it is now, is a pretty fair looking coin I think. Whether or not it will be changed I have not yet determined. The gold coins will not be altered. They are admirable as they are now. Because of their greater value more trouble was taken originally in the designs for them. The stars around the edges of the subsidiary coins will be increased in number to correspond with the number of states in the Union as it now is. Colonel Rob Ingersoll, in the last number of The Arena, declares it an outrage that the words 'In God We Trust' should appear on United States coins, but I am not prepared to say that the motto will be removed. When the bill has passed the Senate giving me the authority, advertisements will be made for designs for the coins in open competition. Probably the Secretary of the Treasury and myself will call into consultation a number of first-rate artists, who will give us their judgment in the matter."

Spanish ladies suffer considerably from irritation of the throat, caused, not by the habit of smoking themselves, but by the constant fumes of tobacco which is indulged in so freely by their male relatives. Sir Morell Mackenzie warns all vocalists against smoking concerts, smoking carriages, or any other place where the atmosphere is laden with tobacco.

Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, in his address on the "World's Fair" before the Chicago Press Club Thursday, described Columbus as standing "deservedly at the head of that most useful band of men—the heroic cranks in history." "The persistent enthusiasts whom one generation despises as a lunatic with one idea," added Mr. Depew, "succeeding ones often worship as a benefactor. The ragged maniac at the gate of the palace of Castile and Aragon outranks in fame and beneficent endeavor all the kings and statesmen and soldiers, not only of his own period, but also of those which have come after."

The Morning's News.

The Wagner through sleeper from Louisville to Boston, via Cincinnati, over the Louisville & Nashville road, was wrecked near English, Ky., at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Nine persons were seriously wounded, two of whom will probably die. They are as follows:—Colonel H. C. Hodges, superintendent of the government storehouse at Jeffersonville, severely bruised, and right leg broken; Mrs. Colonel Hodges, cut and crushed about head and shoulders, can hardly recover; John Johnson of Memphis, cut about head and chest; Mrs. John Johnson, dreadfully mangled about shoulders, will probably die; B. C. Epperson, superintendent Short Line division, Louisville & Nashville, cut about head and arms, greatly bruised and mangled; Brent Arnold, general agent of Louisville & Nashville, Cincinnati, cut about the head and back, and severe cut on arm; C. B. Brent, contracting freight agent Louisville & Nashville at Cincinnati, scalp wounds; H. Beggar, brakeman, leg crushed; Joseph Blackwell, colored porter, of Suffolk, Va., badly bruised. All but Arnold and Brent were carried back to Louisville, and are receiving the best medical attendance. Spreading of the rails threw the sleeper from the track, and it broke in two, one part rolling down a steep embankment and being completely wrecked.

At Gorlitz, Prussian Silesia, yesterday a number of sinters were engaged in repairing the top of a lofty church steeple, while a curious crowd below watched their movements. Suddenly the singing, upon which there were three men, gave way, and the men fell to the ground. A shout of horror went up from the crowd as the men bounded from a projecting part of the steeple and whirled with fearful velocity toward the pavement, and for a moment after they struck the ground and lay quivering everyone feared to go near them. When they were taken up it was found that nearly every bone in their bodies was broken and their flesh so mangled as to defy recognition.

The Farmers' Alliance and Knights of Labor of South Dakota closed a three days' session at Huron last evening. The most important action was the decision to organize a new party. A convention to take political action was at once organized. A committee on resolutions reported in favor of woman suffrage, a graded service pension, prohibition of the liquor traffic, and a tariff for revenue only, and against the acceptance of passes by legislators and other public officials. The report was adopted. The new party was named the "Independent Party." A platform was adopted which included the state and national declaration of principles of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union and Knights of Labor.

Secretary Blaine said last evening that there was not a particle of truth in the San Diego despatch stating that the Mexican government had requested the United States to send soldiers to San Diego to prevent any expedition against Lower California being carried out. Mr. Romero, the Mexican minister, also said that the Mexican government had not asked anything from the government of the United States, with regard to the filibustering expedition against Lower California, which had been hatched in San Diego.

Yesterday's base ball games resulted as follows:—

Players' League, At New York—New York, 12; Brooklyn, 2. At Cleveland—Cleveland, 14; Buffalo, 4. At Chicago—Chicago, 6; Pittsburg, 5. Rain prevented the Boston-Philadelphia game.

National League, At New York—Boston, 8; New York, 3. At Cleveland—Chicago, 12; Cleveland, 4. At Cincinnati—Cincinnati, 8; Pittsburg 5. Rain prevented the Brooklyn-Philadelphia game at Philadelphia.

The will of the late Reuben Noble of Westfield, Mass., not yet offered for probate, disposes of about $130,000 worth of property. Nearly $90,000 worth is distributed among relatives, $50,000 going to his wife, and the remainder, estimated at between $35,000 and $45,000, is left for the building and maintaining of a hospital in Westfield for the poor, to be known as the Noble Hospital. The gift is a great surprise to the townspeople, but highly characteristic of the man.

William V. McKean of Philadelphia and Postmaster General Wanamaker called on Mrs. Harrison yesterday and presented her, in the name of unknown admirers, the keys and deeds of the twenty-room cottage at Cape May Point where she was entertained last summer by the Wanamakers. Mrs. Harrison was delighted with this, her first gift of land, and will reside on it part of this summer.

In the supreme court for York county, Maine, Judge Whitehouse has dismissed the petition of William Dean for admission to citizenship, holding that the municipal court of the city of Biddeford was not a court of competent authority under the laws of the United States to admit aliens to naturalization, and had no jurisdiction over applications therefor.

The owners of steamship Aldesgate have brought suit against the Inman Steamship Company for salvage earned in towing into port the disabled steamer City of Paris. The case excites great interest in maritime circles, owing to the large amount involved and the resistance of the Inman company on extreme grounds.

Seven Belgian glass blowers who arrived on the Umbria a few days ago and were detained on suspicion of having come under contract to work for the Warwick Glass Company of New Jersey have been ordered to be sent back to Belgium.

Richard Croker, the Tammany Hall chieftain, arrived in New York on steamer Aller last evening. He was met at the wharf by Mayor Grant and other Tammany men, and by a group of newspaper men, but refused to talk politics.

President and Mrs. Harrison left Washington yesterday afternoon on the Despatch for a short season of recreation on the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay. They expect to return to Washington Monday morning.

The Duke of Orleans arrived at Dover, England, yesterday from Belgium. His father, the Count of Paris, and forty of his friends awaited him upon the pier, and he was given a hearty reception.

Four hundred houses were destroyed by fire in the Poland town of Doksyce, near Warsaw, yesterday. Ten persons were burned to death. The damage to property is immense.

The finals in the Yale lawn tennis tournament yesterday resulted in a victory for Hundington, who defeated Parker after a hard battle by a score of 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3.

One hundred and fifty of the best known citizens of Chicago met Chauncey M. Depew last night at a banquet. Chairman Lyman J. Gage of the world's fair executive committee presided. The speech making included an address by Chairman Gage and response by Mr. Depew, and replies to toasts, "We, the People," by Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme Court, and "Columbus," by Franklin MacVeagh.

Severe frosts have prevailed in the Rhine valley during the last two nights, completely destroying the fruit crop and greatly damaging early grain.

The President has nominated Frank C. Partridge of Vermont to be examiner of claims, State Department, vice Walker Blaine, deceased.

Governor Hill has signed Mr. Fassett's bill making the New York county sheriff's office a salaried one, and regulating its management.

GRANULATED TOBACCO AND SULPHUR,

The Most Complete Fertilizer Known for Lawns, Gardens, Plants, Shrubs, Vines, etc.,

An odorless and clean dressing without foreign seed; can be applied any time in the season. Decomposition takes place after application, thus furnishing a gradual food for the roots of the grass. No earth worms can live where this is liberally applied. Nothing produces such a dark green color as a TOBACCO FERTILIZER. It will keep flowers thrifty. A small handful in a hill will insure smooth potatoes and a large crop.

STAFFORD MINERAL SPRING WATER

REGISTERED.

"Makes Injun Feel Lively," is what the noble red man told the first settlers of Stafford over 200 years ago.

This reputation, acquired among the Indians many years before Columbus touched our shores, handed down from generation to generation, is today stronger than ever.

The water is unsurpassed for its curative properties in cases of Salt Rheum, Scrofulous Affections, Kidney Ailments and diseases of the Skin. Nature's sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia and inactive conditions of the stomach and liver. A tonic and diuretic in every instance.

We have any number of testimonials, extending over a century, of its efficacious results, in many cases records of most remarkable cures.

This Water is now carefully bottled and offered for sale. For price, etc., address

Take the Kabo corset for an instance, of both.

If it breaks its "bones" in a year, come to us and get your money back.

If it kinks its "bones" and rolls up, as most of the corsets do on women of certain forms, you get your money back.

If it slips or shifts its "bones," you get your money back.

If it doesn't suit you, after wearing a week or two, bring it back and get your money.

We have a primer on Corsets for you at the store.

THE FACE AT THE WINDOW.

A little face at the window;
Two little feet tiptoe;
Eyes open wide as they peer outside
In search of a form they know.

A face of weary wonder;
A little tongue all dumb,
While to and fro the people go,
But the right one doesn't come.

A little face transfigured;
A cry that is low and sweet,
And a merry laugh to telegraph
The joy to the tiny feet.

The face is gone from the window;
And, toddling over the floor,
He laughing goes, for the baby knows
That somebody's at the door.

—O. F. Hooper, in the Columbus Dispatch.

FANCIES.

I'd swear for her,
I'd tear for her,
The Lord knows what I'd bear for her;
I'd die for her,
I'd sigh for her,
I'd drink Bush river dry for her;
I'd cuss for her,
I'd "swiss" for her,
I'd kick up a thunderin' fuss for her;
I'd weep for her,
I'd leap for her,
I'd go without my sleep for her;
I'd fight for her,
I'd bite for her,
I'd walk the street all night for her;
I'd plead for her,
I'd bleed for her,
I'd go without my "feed" for her;
I'd shout for her,
I'd boost for her
Whoever pressed his suit for her;
I'd kneel for her,
I'd steal for her,
Such is the love I feel for her;
I'd slide for her,
I'd glide for her,
I'd swim against the tide for her;
I'd try for her,
I'd cry for her,
But honey, no! I'd die for her.

Temperance missionary—And does your husband drink liquor? Mrs. O'Toole—Bless y'soul! He hasn't tetched a drop for thrace years. T. M.—That's a good thing for you, Mrs. O'Toole—A good thing is it? An' we as has been a widder ever since that day, an' wid five childer to support.—[Life.

A certain young man, Mr. Smith, was noted for an extraordinary and perennial smile. One of his lady schoolmates described a meeting with him thus:—"As I was going out of church I saw a smile down by the door. When I came nearer I discovered that Mr. Smith was around it."—[Western Advocate.

A journalist once wrote a description of a specimen of that tiresome article the dude, and by way of delicate satire said of him that "his manners would adorn a drawing room," but the unthinking "typo" whose up the article made the sentence read:—"His manners would alarm a drowning man." Perhaps, on the whole, the compositor's rendering was not far from the truth.

PERSONALS.

....Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland will be guests of President Eliot at Harvard at commencement.

....Xenie, the eldest of the Czar's two daughters, is said to be betrothed to the young monarch of Servia, King Alexander.

....Mlle. Bibiscu, a Roumanian lady, is soon to be admitted to the Paris bar. She will be the first woman to achieve that distinction.

....Mrs. Wise, a niece of Ward McAllister, recently made a successful debut at a concert in San Francisco. She is described as a beautiful woman.

.... Miss Alice Longfellow, treasurer of the Harvard Annex, invites the women's college this year to have the exercises of graduation at Craigie House.

....Dr. Gatling, the inventor of the Gatling gun, is said to be at work on a new artificial ice machine, which he believes will make ice at one tenth the present cost.

....Emperor William has decided not to give any more presents of jewelry to persons entitled to receive a gift from him, and instead will give to such individuals a photograph of himself and the Empress bearing their autographs.

... Among the host of distinguished visitors at West Point are the widow of General Grant and the widow of General Logan. Mrs. Grant is stopping with her niece, the wife of Lieutenant Pettit, and Mrs. Logan is a guest at her son's cottage near there.

...Writing in the Pall Mall Gazette, Mr. W. S. Gilbert says:—"You ought to attribute the termination of my joint work with Sir Arthur Sullivan to a question connected with the opera which he is writing for Mr. D'Oyly Carte's new theatre. I shall feel obliged if you will permit me to state that my secession has no connection, direct or indirect, with the production of Sir A. Sullivan's new opera."

A CANNY SCOTCHMAN.

Lord Justice Clark Braxfield of Scotland was a man of few words and strong business habits. In courting his second wife his procedure was entirely illustrative of the peculiarities of his character. Calling on the lady, he said to her, without preliminary remarks:—

"Lizzie, I am looking out for a wife, and I thought you just the person that would suit me. Let me have your answer, 'Yes,' or 'No,' the morn, and me nair about it."

The lady the next day replied in the affirmative.

Perhaps he repented his precipitancy; for when a busier gave warning, on account of Mrs. Braxfield's scolding propensities, the judge replied:—

"Lord, man, ye've little to complain of; ye may be thankful ye're no married to her."—[N. Y. Ledger.

—Steam yacht Magnolia arrived last night from Philadelphia, with her owner, Mr. Fairman Rogers, on board.

—Governor Davis entertained the members of his staff at dinner at the Narragansett Hotel, Providence, yesterday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fenner of Providence are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Easterbrook, on Rhode Island avenue.

—Mr. W. C. Swinburne of Leadville, Colorado, and formerly of this city, is on a visit to Hot Springs, Arkansas, for his health.

—A ball will be given at "Fair Lawn" during the summer to introduce Miss Barden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Barden.

—Rev. W. L. Ward, late of the Thames-street Church, has been very cordially received by his new parishioners at Nantic, R. I.

—It is expected that seventy-five apprentice boys will be transferred to each of the cruising ships, Jamestown and Portsmouth, on their arrival here.

—Pilot boat Lily sailed this morning and pilot boat America, 21, arrived for pilots. The Governor Hoyt, with six empty barges, sailed for New York.

—Mr. A. P. Baker and family are expected to leave early next week for Roxbury, New York, in the Catskill region, where the family will spend the summer.

—Charles W. Cass and J. H. Carroll of New York, Mrs. W. R. Shelby of Grand Rapids, Mich., and J. H. McMichaels of Cleveland are at the Perry House.

—Rev. O. M. Hamlen of Mallalieu Seminary, and formerly of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in this city, has returned from Alabama and will pass the summer in Fall River.

—The United States squadron of evolution, under the command of Admiral Walker, consisting of flagship Chicago and the Boston, Atlanta and Yorktown, left St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, on Thursday for Bahia.

—Mrs. Scott, wife of Rev. O. W. Scott, formerly of the Thames-street Church, has an excellent, illustrated poem on "The Danger of Imitation" in the June number of the Young Crusader, a juvenile magazine published in Chicago.

—Peter Malone has resigned his position in the Providence Opera House orchestra and joined the Training Station band, vice Frank Pember, who has resigned to go into business in his former home, Fall River. Mr. Malone was formerly in the ship's band.

—Captain W. T. Sampson, who was several years ago in command of the Torpedo Station here and is now superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, will contribute an article on the latter institution to the forth coming number of Harper's Young People.

—Mr. Norman's sheep yacht Iolanthe was on the ways at Eddy's yard yesterday for a cleaning, and today Mr. Fred P. Sands's sloop Port and Mr. C. O. Iselin's famous seventy-footer Titania are having a cleaning up. The Titania, which has a steel hull, was found very clean below the water line.

—Lieutenant Hamilton Hutchins, U. S. N., attached to the U. S. S. Boston, met with quite a severe accident while horseback riding in Gibraltar. He was thrown from his saddle and sustained a fracture of the right leg. He is at present at the Military Hospital at that place and is speedily recovering. When able to travel he will return to the United States.

—Newport Conclave, Knights of Sherwood Forest, have engaged a special train to go to Fall River on Monday evening, when they attend the reception and ball given them by King Philip Conclave of that city. Arrangements have been made to carry others than members of the conclave, but tickets for the excursion can be obtained only from members.

NO ARMY MANEUVRES THIS SUMMER.

The several department commanders who prepared elaborate programs for the concentration and maneuvres of troops of the regular army during the present summer in obedience to instructions from General Schofield have had their work for nothing. There will be no summer maneuvres. Secretary Proctor has decided that there is not money available for the purpose, and department commanders were accordingly informed yesterday that all projects contemplated under the standing order issued soon after General Schofield came to the head of the army would have to be abandoned for the present year.

In order that the troops may not be idle entirely department commanders were further instructed to arrange for the troops at the respective posts to engage in such field exercises as can be had without increasing the current expenses for transportation and supplies. The operations are thus confined to posts individually, and beyond a few brief practice marches there will be nothing out of the ordinary for the troops to do during the present summer. To the officer and soldier who dislikes work this will be good news, but those interested in seeing the efficiency of the army increased are much disappointed that the good work commenced last year cannot be followed up. Department commanders fully expected a busy season, and several of them had mapped out quite extensive programs.

The intention was to improve upon the operations of last year, with the expectation that in another year it would be possible to mass all the troops of at least one division, and probably all three, at one point for a series of sham battles and manoeuvres similar to those conducted by the French, German and other foreign armies.

BROWN UNIVERSITY.

The committee appointed by the corporation of Brown University to prepare a circular to the alumni stating in brief the chief events of the college year and the main wants of the college, has issued its address and in it will be found many evidences of the increasing prosperity of the institution, which is essentially Rhode Island's college and as such of interest to all persons in the state who are in sympathy with higher education and to the young men who are considering the advantages of a college course.

The circular first refers to the retirement of President Robinson and the election of Elisha Benjamin Andrews, D. D., LL. D., as president, and says the latter "has already set out foot many new undertakings for the advancement of the college, and has inspired a most notable interest in that institution."

The additions to the funds of the university during the year ending April 15, 1890, have been about eighty thousand dollars, the invested funds at that time amounting to $1,090,637.42. This does not include land, buildings, libraries, paintings, museums and scientific apparatus. The treasurer has received of the Daniel Wanton Lyman fund $25,000, and the committee of the corporation has practically reached a conclusion as the plans for the gymnasium which is to be built with the fund, the building to be known as the "Lyman Memorial." The gymnasium maintenance fund, contributed by alumni and friends of the university, amounts to $26,543.38. Of the Daniel Wanton Lyman fund for students, which is to amount to $50,000, the treasurer has received $22,355.00. The building for the physical laboratory, Wilson Hall, is now nearly completed and will be used at the opening of next college year. Since the issue of the last circular the bequest of $10,000 from the late Professor William Gammell has become available for the library, the annual income to be expended for the purchase of books relating to the history of the United States. The Diman memorial fund amounts to about $1,500 and through the efforts of Professor Jameson nearly two-thirds of the desired amount, $10,000, has been promised from the women of Providence who were students in the late professor's special classes. This fund, when completed, will be devoted to the purchase of books on English and American history for the library. The will of the late Hon. James Warren Merrill of Cambridge, Mass., bequeathed $10,000 to the general fund of the college. The gift of Hon. Herbert Warren Ladd of $25,000 for the astronomical observatory is already being put to use. Land for a site has been secured by purchase and gift, contracts have been awarded and the building commenced. The department of mathematics and science has received from Mr. William A. Harris of Providence a new and excellent surveyor's transit. The will of the late Benjamin Francis Thurston of Providence make Brown University the recipient of the residue of his estate, about $60,000, in the event of the death of his children without issue. During the year the Babcock scholarship has been founded by a gift of $1,000 from Hon. Horatio Gates Jones of Philadelphia, and the late Albert Jenkins Jones, Esq., of Rome and formerly of Providence, bequeathed to the university the sum of $1,000 for general purposes. The John Larkin Lincoln fund will undoubtedly reach the desired $100,000 limit before commencement.

The curriculum of the college has during the year been rearranged and enlarged. The amount of time allotted to political economy has been doubled; the department of modern languages has been extended so as to include Italian and Spanish, and the course in German and French has been increased nearly two fold. In the course in chemistry there has been a wide extension and plans are to be made for a further increase; in the department of physics the completion of the new building, Wilson Hall, will allow a very much wider extension of the work and the new observatory will give opportunity for a similar enlargement in astronomy; in the other branches extensions have been made and will be as far as the funds allow.

The library has been increased during the year by the addition of 525 volumes by purchase and 540 volumes and 1,881 pamphlets by gift. It now numbers about 70,000 volumes and 20,000 pamphlets. The circular says:—"The recommendation is here repeated that the friends of the college contribute according to their inclinations and opportunities towards the growth of the library. The present funds of this department amount to $16,000. This amount, however, is entirely inadequate. Gifts in money, therefore, are requested for the increase of the means of buying books and periodicals."

The members of the faculty have found time to respond to calls for public literary services of one kind or another. The various officers have given many public addresses, and the magazines and educational, religious and scientific periodicals contain many papers from the pens of members of the faculty. President Andrews and Professors Appleton, Bancroft, Poland, Packard, Bailey, Upton, Chapin and Jameson have published several works in their respective departments. During the year special courses of lectures on state and social reforms, railroads, laws, art and agriculture have been given, to which the students have had access, and which have proved of much benefit.

During the year two associations have been formed among the students for the purpose of forwarding the interests of the college in particular sections of the country. These are the Brown University Connecticut and Western clubs. The New Bedford Alumni Association has been organized during the year, making nine central and local organizations for the advancement of the college, as follows:—The Alumni Association of Brown University, and local clubs or associations in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Newport, Fall River, Chicago, Norwich, Conn., and New Bedford.

The exercises of commencement week begin next Friday with the Class day exercises of the graduating class. The program of the week is as follows:—

THE PRESIDENT'S SILVER PLATE.

It is a horrible thought, but there are only four dozen genuine silver knives, forks and spoons in the butler's pantry in the White House, and be the most skillful ingenuity they cannot be made to do duty for fifty people. There is one set of knives and forks in the sideboard which has a history, for it cost a President his re-election. These are the golden knives and forks which Van Buren added, and when the people learned that the public moneys were being taken to pay gold spoons in the President's mouth they promptly defeated him. Now the truth of the matter is that they are not gold at all, and the people were hasty in their judgment. They are solid silver washed with gold, and it was only a few years ago in President Arthur's day that they began to wear off and disclose the brass. He had them rewashed, and they are still used on state occasions. They are small, but thinked and much more delicate than those commonly in use at this day. Many of the larger pieces of silver date back to Madison's day, although no memorandum has been kept, and it is hard to tell when things were purchased. Nonetheless old pieces bear the words "President's House." The statement which was formerly used, "Time sets all wrong out, the only conclusion is that the White House has had its burglaries as well as private houses. It is the privilege of stewards to condemn articles which have been in use some time, and there is no doubt among those who have thought of it that in times past many an article has been condemned and sold, which would have the incalculable value of historical association just now. Mrs. Harrison has the hope that Congress will some day make an appropriation to redeem any of these valuables that can be traced, and she will surely have the good will of all in her attempt.—Letter in Philadelphia Press.

A match of 100 single birds has been made between Tinker of Providence and Russell of Fall River for $100 a side. The match will be shot the 19th, and the birds will consist of clay pigeons and blue rocks. Tinker is the crack shot of Providence and Russell defeated Congdon in this city.

The Salvation Army of southern New England will hold its annual summer meeting from July 26 to August 4.

The Sons of St. George of Rhode Island, Fall River, Cambridgeport and Worcester will hold their annual field day at Rocky Point on July 30.

The boss carpenters of New Bedford have voted to give their men nine hours on and after July 1. Their first proposition was September 1. It is probable that the strike of the carpenters will be settled by this concession.

The next annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of the Colored Masons of Rhode Island and Massachusetts will be held with the New Bedford lodge on September 17.

The Spanish government is a hard master. It pays the workmen in the Almaden quicksilver mines, which yield an enormous revenue, only twenty cents per day, and owing to the deleterious nature of the work the strongest men can only labor two days in the week. After five or six years of the work the miners become disabled altogether, when the government magnanimously gives them a license to beg.

The discoveries made by Stanley show that the Nile is the longest river in the world, being at least 4,100 miles in length. Were the Mississippi regarded merely as a tributary to the Missouri, as some geographers contend, the latter stream would surpass the African watercourse, having a length of 4,500 miles. The Amazon is estimated at 3,600 miles, and is second in size of the great rivers of the world.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

The Presbyterian sin this country are reported as numbering 856,000, a gain of 16,000 during the year.

Bishop Mallalieu of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who lately spent some time in Mexico, expresses great confidence in the religious future of that country.

A new Christian paper has just been started in Lahore, India, by the American Presbyterians, the Church Mission and the Cambridge Delhi mission, called the True Light.

The perfect religious equality of negro church members was affirmed by the action of the Presbyterian General Assembly last week. The usefulness of an order of deaconesses also received recognition.

Phillips Brooks has about twelve hundred communicants in his church, forty-three of them being received during the year. The sunday school numbers 808, and the total annual contributions amount to $32,157.

Cardinal Manning declares for the eight-hour movement for the reason that "Under too long hours domestic life is impossible; but on the domestic life of the people the whole political order of human society repose."

After two years of unremitting effort, the loyal Methodists of Cleveland, Ohio, have raised $50,000 to pay off all debts on the twenty Methodist Episcopal churches of that city. A jubilee over the event will be held on June 8.

The defeat in the general assembly of the Free Church of Scotland, by a vote of 382 nays to 237 yeas, of the motion to prosecute Professor Bruce of Glasgow for a heresy, disposes of a reactionary attempt, in that Presbyterian stronghold, to do what has been attempted on this side of the water by the prosecution of the Andover professors.

The Baptists were busy raising their million for the university in Chicago when Dr. Goodspeed announced contributions of $27,000 from the Jews of Chicago. This sign of union was received with tremendous applause, and the Baptist folks rose and sang "Ye chosen seed of Israel's race," etc., with greatest fervor and in greatest admiration of their Hebrew helpers.

TO MAKE SILK DIRECTLY FROM THE MULBERRY LEAVES.

According to a report presented to the Paris Academy of Sciences by M. Emile Blanchard, a professor of chemistry, says a Paris correspondent, it will be quite possible, at a not remote epoch, to manufacture silk without the intervention of the cocoon. Numerous experiments have already been made in this direction, but nothing practical has resulted. M. Blanchard, however, is confident in the experiments made by himself. He is convinced, for instance, that the constituent materials of silk are to be found in the mulberry leaf, upon which the silk worm feeds. By drying some of the leaves on which a worm fed, and then after a while opening the body of the chrysalis, he found that nothing had passed through the digestive organs and into the blood except the elements necessary for the production of silk. Other matters had been excluded by certain glands of the worm which had acted as a purifier. M. Blanchard confesses, however, that the silk which he produced by experiments with mulberry leaves was inferior in richness and particularly in gloss, to that furnished by the cocoons. This resulted from the fact that, as the silk goes through two processes in the glands of the worm, he had only the time and the means to study the first in which the silk is evolved in its primary state. He believes, however, that it will be possible eventually to produce, by chemical means, the gloss or varnish which is the result of the second stage through which the silk passes in the body of the insect which produces it.

A SIOUX GRADUATE.

Charles Alexander Eastman, one of the graduates in medicine at Boston University is a Sioux Indian, whose original name was Ohiyesa, signifying a winner. He was born in 1862 on the Sioux reservation. His father was the son of one of the Sioux chiefs and joined in the Sioux outbreak of 1862. He was wounded, captured and
